The Future Is Ours . . .

The future belongs to each and every one of us at Logan High School. We have the opportunity to gain knowledge and experience necessary for the future ahead of us, through education and life. Education gives us the awareness needed for the future to come. Each day, life brings to us new experiences which take us one more step closer to adulthood.

This year has been complete with activities for all of us. Freshmen adjusted to a new atmosphere while seniors planned their futures. The TROJAN staff has attempted to preserve a few of those activities which occurred during our nation's 200th year.

Seven Member Board Governs District

The LHS administration is governed by a seven member board and Superintendent Paul Jones.

School board meetings are held once a month to carry out the business of the district. These meetings are open to the public and all interested students and patrons are welcome.

Mr. Jones is in constant contact with the three building principals, Donald Gleason, high school; Charles Dougherty, Logan Elementary; and Roy Watt, Prairie View Elementary. It is Mr. Jones' duty to execute the policies set forth by the board of education.

English Promotes Expression

Studying English helps provide communication and expression for the students of LHS.

New to the LHS faculty this year is Mr. Mark Baker. Mr. Baker comes to LHS from Wichita State University. He teaches English I, II, and III. He also serves as girls volleyball coach.

Mrs. Getty teaches two classes of English, two classes in speech and one class of psychology-sociology.

Math, Science, Offer Advanced Training

Various units of math and science are offered at LHS. Mr. Bruce Koenig, new to the school faculty, comes from Cimmaron, Kansas, where he taught for two years. He attended college at Colorado State University. Mr. Koenig teaches science classes which include general science, biology, chemistry, and advanced biology.

Mr. Simoneau offers Algebra I and II, geometry, advanced math, and a modular consisting of career math, metrics, consumer math and math.

Mr. Altman serves as school counselor. In addition to this duty, he also instructs general math and nine weeks of vocations.

Classes Provide Experience, Knowledge

Social, vocational and physical sciences along with history and foreign language provide LHS students with needed experience and knowledge.

Physical education classes are taught by Mr. Hanson and Mr. Skinner. Along with these, Mr. Hanson instructs American Government and freshman health.

Miss Sharon Pettijohn taught in Winona and Burlington before coming to LHS. She teaches American History, minorities, and Spanish in addition to being Pep Club sponsor and assistant volleyball coach. She attended college at Fort Hays State.

Mrs. Thomas instructs LHS students in all business courses which include business law, office practice, typing and bookkeeping. She also teaches publications and is advisor of the yearbook.

Students Show Individual Talents

Through art and music, LHS students find it easy to demonstrate their individual talents.

Mrs. Coddington teaches two classes that advance the students' interest in art. In these classes students have an opportunity to express themselves in areas of charcoal, ceramics, oil, watercolor, pencil sketch, and others.

New to the LHS faculty this year is Robert Stutterheim who teaches band, vocal music, and guitar. He previously taught at LaCrosse, Wakeeney, Wichita, and Colby Community Jr. College. He attended college at Fort Hays Kansas State and the University of Colorado. One of Mr. Stutterheim's new innovations is Jazz Ensemble. An extra curricular activity, the ensemble practices every Tuesday and Thursday at 7:45 a.m.

Mrs. Hill keeps the Junior High and High School libraries under acute surveillance, in addition to instructing freshman English and sponsoring Kayettes.

Vocational Courses Increase Student Skills

Various vocational courses are offered at LHS. Mrs. Lelia Koenig is new to the Logan faculty this year. She teaches home economics and is assistant girls basketball coach. She attended college at Colorado State University.

Mr. Sebbert and Mr. Thomas offer industrial arts classes. These courses increase skills in working with wood, metal, and in mechanics. Mr. Sebbert teaches all wood working classes and freshman girls physical education. He also coaches boys' basketball and girls' track. Mr. Thomas offers classes in auto mechanics, driver's education and welding.

Many Work Behind the Scenes

Custodians, Cooks, and Bus Drivers provide many services for LHS students.

USD 326 supports eight bus routes and has eight qualified drivers plus substitutes. Loren Broyles, Dean Carey, Louise Kincaid, Frank Lamb, Jim Morris, Morris VanDerVeen, Betty Wallgren and Milo Legg transport students to and from school in addition to extra-curricular activities.

The head cook, Dot Stanton, and her assistants, Mary Krouse, Vada Sanson, and Addie Hill provide a balanced meal for Logan students each day. Darlene Brown prepares the noon meals at Prairie View.

Although not always noticed, the custodians jobs play an important role in the operation of the schools. It is the job of Floyd Kelly, Cliff Leidig and Cecil Brooks to maintain the school buildings in Logan. Verda Brown is janitor at Prairie View.

StuCo Hosts Christmas Formal

''Feelings'' was the theme of the 1975 Christmas Formal, which was hosted by the Student Council on the evening of December 20.

Program introductions were made by emcees Chuck Becker and Jim McDonald. After the candidates had been escorted to their places by the junior attendants, the mixed ensemble serenaded the Royal Court by singing ''On Top of the World.''

Ward Hutchinson announced the royalty to be Kenny Pakkebier and Lori Brumbaugh. The royal couple and their court then danced to the theme song ''Feelings'' sung by Carlos Contreras. ''Freedom Road,'' a rock combo, provided music for the dance which followed the coronation ceremonies.

Juniors, Seniors Present 'ESP'

The junior and senior classes presented a two act play, April 2 at 8:00 in the school auditorium.

The play "ESP" is full of fun and comedy. It is a story of a widower, Dr. Fitzmorris, portrayed by Boyd Hutchinson, who has two daughters. His youngest, Hyacinth, played by Sheila Ruff, discovers she has ESP.

In the play there is a love interest between the doctor and his tenant, Mrs. Marcia Macar, played by LewJene Schneider, and a triangle between his first daughter Sally, played by Deb Stark, and Mrs. Macar's son Dennis, played by Mitch Dougherty, and Robert, a young intern, played by Pat Kolb.

In the final act the Dr. and Marcia announce their forthcoming wedding. Robert and Claudine, and Dennis and Sally also make plans for their own marriages.

Three Participate in Forensics Competition

Cheyenne Conference League Speech Contest was held March 2 at Ransom. Three students from Logan participated. They were Rhonda Brown, Chuck Becker, and Kathleen Zink.

Rhonda received a I rating on her dramatic interpretation by T. P. Caravan called "Random Sample." It is about a nine year old girl who is in a psychologist office because she saw people from outer space. She is explaining to him what she saw, but her mind keeps wandering to the subject of stomping ants.

Chuck and Kathleen received a I rating on their duet act by De Hartog titled "Fourposter." The act is about a couple who have a son who has not returned home yet, and it is 4:00 in the morning. The father found a bourbon bottle in his son's room and is upset about it.

Kathleen, Chuck, and Rhonda then attended the Regional Speech Contest at Hays March 20. Both acts received a II rating. Since neither entry received a I rating they couldn't attend State Speech Contest, thus ending competition for the three.

Juniors Laud Seniors With "Times of Our Lives"

"Times of Our Lives" was the theme chosen for the 1976 Junior-Senior Prom on May 1, where the seniors were the honored guests.

A banquet, program, and dance were the main events of the evening. Dana Bushnell and Mitch Dougherty were mistress and master of ceremonies. The junior ensemble presented the seniors with the theme song.

The juniors provided a memorable prom to honor the seniors of LHS. The theme was carried out with streamers of royal blue and white enclosing the room around the side and over the ceiling. A fountain was situated in one corner.

The menu of steak, baked potatoes, beans, combination salad, hot rolls, chocolate cake, and tea and coffee, was prepared by the junior mothers and served by the sophomores.

Seniors Earn Various Honors

During class night activities, May 19, Anna Noel and Kathleen Zink were recognized as Valedictorian and Salutatorian, respectively, of the class of 1976.

Anna was class Valedictorian with a 9.93 grade point average. Kathleen earned the honor of Salutatorian with a grade point average of 8.75.

Anna was also named LHS Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow. Anna won the honor by competing with other seniors in the written knowledge and attitude examination. She received a certificate from General Mills, sponsor of the annual education scholarship program.

Sheila Ruff was awarded the Outstanding Senior Musician Award for her participation in and contribution to the LHS Music Department.

Seniors Conclude One Phase of Life

Climaxing moments for the thirty-nine members of the 1976 senior class included baccalaureate May 18, class night May 19, and commencement May 20. The class theme was All Our Tomorrows Depend on Today. They used "Time in a Bottle" as the class song, red and silver as the class colors, and roses as the flower. The class chose Dr. Gerald Tomanek, president of Fort Hays State College, to be their speaker.

Organizations

Tien Leads StuCo Through School Year

Kelly Tien and Gary Gulick, president and vice-president, with their sponsor Donald Gleason led the Student Council through the 1975-76 school year. Kelly and Gary were elected by the student body at a general assembly in May of 1975.

This years Student Council sold candy bars and pop to raise money for the annual Christmas Formal. They also tried to send a student representative to each school board meeting and revised the constitution.

Pep Club Encourages Spirit

First year sponsor, Sharon Pettijohn and president Becky Brooks had many changes and improvements to make in Pep Club this year. The club sponsored an all-school dance, sock-it-to-em-day, and a legs contest as a money project.

The executive board was also kept busy revising the constitution. Changes such as those concerning cheerleaders and the merit system were made. The group feels the changes will greatly improve next years club.

Kayettes Work for 2000-Point Award

The Kayettes, striving for their 2000-point award, were kept busy throughout the year. With leadership from their president, Rhonda Brown, and their sponsor, Mrs. Ione Hill, the club made their 2000 points through various community, school, world and national services.

Service projects included a drive for cystic fibrosis, a soup supper for cerebral palsy, CARE, and an adoption of an Indian girl.

In May the Kayettes honored their mothers with the annual banquet. The theme was "To Mother with Love" and the guest speaker was Sue Krouse. The evening was concluded with the traditional installation of new board members.

The Future Is Ours

We have been one until now. During high school we have been groups of friends, classes, etc.

During our senior year, we become individuals as we make plans and decisions about our futures.

In the future, when we think of LHS, we'll remember all the old times, good and bad, and how much we learned from them. What happens in the future is up to each individual because - the future is ours.

ABOVE: Anna Noel narrates the description of Shirley Book and Bob Archer's sewing projects they are modeling during the annual style show by the home economics classes.

LEFT: Mr. Altman awards the Phillips County Scholarships during Class Night activities. Recipients were Wanda Johnston, Rhonda Brown, Curtis Baker, Karen McCue, Pat Kolb, and Anna Noel.

BELOW: The stage band performs for the last time at the annual Spring Concert. They also played for a variety of functions throughout the year.

TOP: Karen McCue watches Bev Grammon spray paint her name on the retaining wall just east of the high school. The wall gets redecorated annually by each graduating senior class.
LEFT: Many enjoyed the art display after Class Night activities. This represented the work of the classes throughout the year. Items displayed were oil paintings, pencil and charcoal sketches and ceramics.
ABOVE: Friends and relatives congratulate seniors after they have received their diplomas.

Thanks to all who donated their time and effort toward the 1976 edition of the Trojan. Each member of the staff contributed their own ideas to make this yearbook one that represents a little of each of us at LHS.

A special thanks to Mrs. T. for all her help and hard work.
